CALL FOR PAPERS

The 2020 IEEE International Conference on Signal Processing, Communications and Computing (ICSPCC 2020) will be held in University of Macau (UM), Taipa, Macau, China, in August 21-24, 2020. The goal of the conference is to bring together leading engineers, researchers and academia from the world to discuss novel theories, technologies and applications in the areas of signal processing, communications and computing. The conference will feature prominent plenary speakers as well as technical sessions.

Macau is on China's southern coast western side of the Pearl River and 60 km west of Hong Kong. The jurisdiction is under of the Macau, like Hong Kong, is China Special Administration Region, an innovative implementation of the 'One Country, Two Systems' policy. Macau is the world's 83rd-largest economy, with a nominal GDP of over US$53 billion, major from tourism and the gaming industry seven times larger than that of Las Vegas.

Topics for the conference include, but not limited to

- Audio and speech processing
- Sensor array and multi-channel SP
- Image and multidimensional SP
- Radar and sonar SP
- Biomedical signal processing
- Information and data processing
- SP for communications
- Internet of things
- Machine Learning
- Channel estimation and equalization
- Compressive sensing
- Ocean observation technology
- Detection, estimation and classification
- Wireless communications and networks
- Optical communications and networks
- Microwave, antennas and propagation
- Cognitive radio and sensor networks
- Cyber-physical systems
- Grid and cloud computing
- Space time processing and MIMO systems
- Embedded system design
- Underwater communications and networks
- Grid and Cloud Computing
- Mobile social networks

Paper Submission: Submitted papers must not have been published previously or must not be currently under consideration elsewhere for publication. All submissions will be handled electronically. The full papers should adhere to the standard IEEE format and must not exceed 6 pages and accepted papers will be submitted to the Xplore Digital Library.
